

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 14, line 17 with the following amended paragraph:

In S160, a new web page is forwarded to the browser of the user including a template editing dialog box for the selected template. Next, in S170, the template is edited in the browser by the user. Upon completion, the edited template is sent to the template editing device, ~~for~~ for example, using the HTTP post method. Then, in S180, the syntax of the template is verified. Control then continues to S190.